Annual S. A. D. 44 C. of C. Awards Budget Meeting Monday, June 4

Interested voters of M. S. A. D. #44 are scheduled to meet next Monday evening, June 4, for the annual District Budget Meeting. The 7:30 meeting is to be held at the Telstar Auditorium.

Action is scheduled on a fiscal year 1980 gross operating budget of $2,432,687 plus a total S. A. D. #44 Adult Education Budget of $17,950. A net amount of $1,055,675 plus the local share of $8,745 for Adult Education would be assessed to member towns in FY 1980.

Also included in the warrant is a request for action on the Regional Vocational Budget (NOVA) of $220,478 for the 1979-80 year and a NOVA Adult Education Budget of $6,100.

There is also an article seeking authorization for the Board of Directors to make applications for acceptance, and expend on behalf of the School District all gifts, advances, grants-in-aid or other funds for educational purposes as may now or hereafter be available or forthcoming from the U. S. Government, the State of Maine, or private sources.

See warrant, page Three.

WATER RATE INCREASE APPLIES TO BETHEL VILLAGE AND WEST BETHEL

Although the water supply system installed for West Bethel and the Bethel village areas are totally different in design, the rate increase proposed by the Trustees of the Bethel Water District applies to the West Bethel Customers equally as it does to the customers living in Bethel village.

Costs for operating the West Bethel system run substantially above revenues due to electricity needed for pumping and high maintenance costs brought about by the (alleged) below standard method of construction for the 20-year-old West Bethel division. This is according to Bethel Water District records.

Surprisingly, however, there is a natural fluoridation in the West Bethel water supply which brings the level of fluoride in the water to a level not substantially below the level required by the state if artificial input is maintained.

Daily checks of the West Bethel division are made by district personnel the same as in the village area. These checks are to ensure proper operation and to detect leaks as soon as possible after they start.

The Greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce will hold its 11th Annual Awards Banquet at the Bethel Inn on Tuesday, June 12.

The public is heartily invited to come for an enjoyable evening and to lend their supporting recognition to some of Bethel's outstanding citizens who will be honored. The program starts with a social hour at 5:30 and dinner at 7:00 o'clock. Entertainment will follow dinner and the awards presentation. The chamber asks that reservations for dinner be made directly to the Bethel Inn's desk, telephone 824-2175.

This year in addition to the citizenship awards which have been part of the awards banquet tradition, the chamber will recognize the year's outstanding business person. Criteria for this award according to the awards committee headed by Barbara D. Brown, includes overall excellence in business development during the past year so that the community benefits directly from the quality, scope and vigor demonstrated by the particular business concerned.

For the second year in a row a business also will be honored for its contribution to community beautification. Last year the L. B. Davis Lumber Co received the award.

In 1978, Dr. John Trinward received the Henry H. Hastings Citizenship Award; Mrs. Mary Carroll received the Senior Citizen Award for Outstanding Community Service. Award winners were presented to Peter Keniston and Rachel Cummings.

This year selections for the student awards will be made after considering candidates from both Telstar and Gould Academy.

STATE YMCA OFFICIALS MEET WITH BETHEL GROUP

A group of Bethel citizens met Tuesday evening at the Wherehouse on Railroad Street, to talk with Douglas Reed, executive of the State YMCA of Maine, and David Whelan, the State Y's Youth Community Development Director, about the possibility of a Y program in Bethel.

The meeting was called by Lyn Bristol, proprietor of the Wherehouse, and a supporter of the idea of a local community center for all ages. Among those attending were parents of local young people, a group of senior citizens, the chairperson of Bethel's Recreation Board, and part way along, two neighborhood boys.

The Y representatives showed a slide presentation about the Y's work in the Farmington Area. The Farmington program concentrates on youth, but Mr. Whelan noted that it does so because the local community desires this focus. He emphasized the Y is interested in helping local young people organize programs that fit continued on Page Four Olive Davis, Corres.

Another rainy week end with us. Anyway it gives us a chance to rest unless you are a duck and that's what I did.

Mrs. Ethel Davis and mother, Mrs. Mary Brown, were in Wilton Sunday where they visited Esther's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hines. Her nephew, Percy Wilkins and family were there visiting so she visited with them, too. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins have three children, Jamie, 6 years old and twins, Jason and Jeremy, a year old. Coming home they called on a niece in Jay, Trudy Greenleaf and family. Mr. Greenleaf has built a new home, so they toured the new house. Mr. Greenleaf is a contractor by trade.

Lettie Brooks took Olive Davis, Collista Morgan, Ruth Hastings and Miriam McAllister to Oxford where they attended the Retired Teachers meeting Saturday, having dinner at the Legion Hall. They heard barber shop quartet music in the afternoon, which was very good.

Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks, Marion Mayhew and Olive went to Paris Grange. West Paris conferred the 3rd and 4th degrees on four candidates.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bryant called Sunday afternoon. Mr. Bryant and I went to the yard at West Paris and replaced the urn. He did some cementing on the rim where he had fixed it before.

Mrs. June Cushman and Mrs. Beatrice Felt, Augusta, called on me Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lowe have sold their place on Route 26 to Sylvia Evans who moved in this week.

Barbara Cash is improving in the Rumford Hospital.

Mrs. LaForest Twitchell is gaining at home. These sick members of our town would enjoy cards. It helps to brighten the day knowing someone cares.

As I write a few news, the week end of Memorial doesn't look so hot and the weather doesn't sound too hot. Who knows, Monday morning may dawn to be a beautiful day for all the parades, speeches, decorating of graves and all the events concerned with Memorial Day and the holiday.

Monday night, May 21, two former North Paris boys died in an auto accident on Main Street, Norway. They were Danny Herick and Christopher Bonney of Woodstock. Cleveland Herick, brother to Danny, was taken to Norway hospital with severe injuries. The families of the three young men have our heartfelt sympathy.

Tuesday morning, the West Paris Fire Department was called by a passer-by to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lowe. The house was formerly owned for many years by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Abbott. The barn is all gone but some of the house remains standing. I haven't heard what caused the fire. Investigators were coming Wednesday. The children got onto the school bus a half hour before the fire was noticed around the eaves of the barn. I don't know about the Appaloosa horse, if it survived or not. Mr. and Mrs. Lowe work at Hixest Farms, Lewiston and have done a lot of work in the house in the past year.

Several of my neighbors worked like buggers Wednesday and Thursday to plant their garden before it rained. Today the seeds may be all washed out.

One day this week I pulled down the blinds and looked all the doors and had a feed on fresh water smelts. Very good and I didn't see any calories.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the doctors and nurses and the operating staff at the Maine Medical Center, Portland. Special thanks to Pastor Larson and all my brothers and sisters at the Bethel Gospel Center for all the prayers they sent out for me and thank God for answering them. Also thanks for the pretty flowers and get well cards. Special thanks to my brothers and sisters from the Senior Citizens and Fish and Game, the Ekco mill, the American Legion, my family and everyone for the cards. May God bless you all.

The sunrise hours this week I presume have been at the same time, but the sun was missing. However, the day starts with excitement. The birds celebrate the dawn. The trees shimmer in the freshness. My columbine, which is wild, is full of red and gold blooms on its rock base. It contrasts to secure a foothold in the most precipitous and uncertain nook. Its jewel-like flowers gleam from a lofty perch and is a bit of loveliness. I have other colors but this is my favorite.

The irises are coming into bloom in my garden and down along the pond. To the older generation they were always "blue flags" and bloomed when the tulips began to fade.

These days are alive with sounds that have come so gradually, that we are scarcely aware of them. Apple blossoms have been pink and white in the orchards so the bees are working overtime. Our plum trees' fragrance has sweetened our surroundings.

Every one knows Ralph Waldo Emerson's Rhodora:

"In May, when sea winds pierced the woods,
I found the fresh Rhodora in the woods,
Spreading its leafless blooms in a damp nook
To please the desert and the sluggish brook.
The purple petals, fallen in the pool,
Make the black water with their beauty gay;
Here might the redbird come his plumes to cool,
And court the flower that cheapest his array."

May has been the period that bridged the gap between winter and summer. There have been days when the sun's heat rested on our valley and we wondered if the months were mixed. Then, as this week, there came the chilly rain, raw air, and there were lingering bits of winter's cold.

The end of May wouldn't be the end of May to me if I did not go to see the "half acre" of lilacs on the hill. So I did manage a time to do that.

This was a pleasant, leisurely walk filled with diversions all the way, wet beneath my feet and flies around, as I went through same shaded, tangled floor. Phoebe flew from her nest above the door of the wood shed, song sparrows threw their songs to the sky from fence posts, and I caught the jingling music of the bobolinks over the fields, as I climbed.

Lilacs are humble and an old-fashioned part of our national tradition. They are very generous with their fragrance and bring cheer to May. Their thick green leaves hold their sheen for a long period. I have read that the lilac is not a native of America but of Persia and came to us with the early colonist. Unpretentious and plain; it grows in gardens and old cellar holes, as these here do.

A cat bird usually nests here and the small wild folk seek sanctuary somewhere in the tangled dimness. I was glad to again visit this queen of the American doorway.

So near to the brook, I had to go and look. Years of weathering had polished the stones. I gazed for a few moments into the water scene where something is always happening. In the swiftness of the water and attached to the stones were innumerable larvae; I presume of the black flies. They are found most often in swift brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan and Ann Mills called on Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks in West Paris on Sunday afternoon.

Ernest and Ina Mundt, Bethel, were with us for a golden wedding anniversary dinner on Thursday evening, May 24. The weather was much the same as 50 years ago when the four of us went to West Paris where they were married.

We spent a most enjoyable evening recalling scenes and events over the years.

Our other callers this week were Frank and Dorothy Curtis, Town; Ernest and Meona Curtis, Poland; Ruth Hastings, South Paris; Ann Holt, Bethel.

Visitors at the Hayes Homestead were Duane Hayes and children, West Paris; Ardell and Betty Hayes, Auburn; Mr. and Mrs. Adam Waterhouse, Westbrook; Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Libby, Scarborough.

Golf Is Great Exercise... Is You Run After The Ball?

Query the average business executive as to what he does to keep in condition, and you'll get an answer something like this: "Oh, I get plenty of exercise. I play golf at least twice a week."

As he says the word "exercise," you notice that his paunch is popping over his pants, and he's out of breath just from showing you his two-over-par stroke.

You wonder why. The fact is that playing golf is not a game of exercise. Not the way it's being played now-a-days.

True, years ago it entailed a great deal of walking, including the carrying of a heavy golf bag for a full 18 holes. This develops stamina. Today, golf is nothing more than a game of skill in which you ride the full length and breadth of the course on a golf cart, do a great deal of talking and betting, which is followed by a full course of heavy drinking and eating on the 19th hole. This develops the paunch.

Before all the golf enthusiasts get up in arms about anyone criticizing their beloved sport, let it be known here and now that golf is one of the most popular games in America. It's produced some great performers like Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, and has benefited some great charities thanks to people like Bob Hope and Perry Como. And it's fun and develops coordination. But that's all it is. Don't deceive yourself into believing that it gives you the adequate exercise you need.

What's the alternative? Doctors of chiropractic who place a great deal of emphasis on the value of their own communities. The Maine State Y is unique in its outreach to rural communities; no other state Y is so involved.

"TEAM TESTING" — Recently in Mr. Riley's 8th grade science class at Telstar Middle School, "Team Testing" Competition was held. The testing covered material studied since Jan. 1, 1979. The five finalists who scored 29 out of a possible 30 were Sean Kersey, Denise Foster, Eddie Greenleaf, Jane Corriveau, and Leslie Olson (absent).

Carolyn Holden, who heads the Bethel Recreation Board, outlined that group's programs, which are supported both by town funds and by volunteer labor from the community. These include a summer recreation program for children through grade 6, a summer swimming program, a basketball program, and support for the local Little League teams. She noted that, almost all the activities the Recreation Board presently supports are for youth, and that the Recreation Board is interested in developing programs for other age groups as well.

Doug Reed, state Y executive, outlined the ways in which Y groups have been organized throughout Maine, noting that the methods and desires of the communities have varied greatly. He also said that the Y is only one alternative, and Bethel might be able to provide for itself through the Recreation Board. Both he and the Recreation Board, however, thought that almost all the activities the Recreation Board presently supports are for youth, and that the Recreation Board is interested in developing programs for other age groups as well.

WOODSTOCK ELEMENTARY SCHOOL STEERING COMMITTEE MEETING

The Steering Committee of the Woodstock Elementary School met Thursday evening, May 24, at the school. Chairman Diane York reviewed what was discussed at the last meeting and the progress of each was mentioned. The idea of moving Woodstock Kindergarten students to Locke Mills so as to improve cafeteria facilities, has been presented to the board. Further investigation of this idea will be taking place.

A swap day for the 6th graders has taken place. The parents took their child's place for the school day from boarding the bus in the morning until returning home in the afternoon. About 1/4 of the parents responded to the idea. Four of the parents had attended school Thursday in their child's place with a favorable report on the activity. Other parents were to attend school on Friday. The suggestion of doing the same next year, only earlier in the year, was mentioned, and to keep the Swap Day restricted to the 6th grade.

The main topic of the night's meeting was concerned with Competency Testing for Seniors covering the basic skills. This project is in the beginning stages.

Diane York has agreed to be Coordinator for the town of Woodstock on the project.

It was pointed out that any Woodstock child entering 6th grade could contact the Superintendent's Office about attending Middle School and can be taken in on a first come first served basis until the vacancies are filled.

STATE OF MAINE
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
Karen L. Brown

The Legislature has just about used up all the 100 days allotted by law to the first legislative session. With about 10 days remaining, there are likely to be many bills that will not be acted upon this year. Many of those bills may be postponed to the next regular session in 1980.

Governor Brennan's Budget
Gets a Closer Look

Early this week the Appropriations Committee took a second look at Gov. Brennan's current services budget which cleared the Legislature on its first hearing a month ago with hardly a debate. The $1 billion budget, which includes all existing programs, is usually passed with little opposition, but this year for the first time in at least 25 years, the Appropriations Committee gave it initial approval without any changes. That has now changed, as the committee is closely examining the budget for possible cuts. It is estimated that those cuts may total approximately $1 million per year. Most of these are expected to be in programs where the recommended increase was larger than the rate of inflation, and in programs with funds remaining from previous years.

The Governor's Part II budget which includes funds for new or expanded state government programs is now undergoing legislative scrutiny, and already the committee has made some tentative changes. The Legislature will have to make careful determination between wants and needs, in order to keep a tight rein on the state budget.

Bottle Bill Amendment Approved
Before Repeat Referendum

Two bills that would make

Maine's returnable bottle law easier on small stores were given initial approval by the Legislature this week. One of the two bills would allow all stores to set aside three hours of the day during which they would not accept bottles, while the other proposal would set a limit of 240 containers which could be returned by any customer at one time. The store would be required to conspicuously post the hours during which bottles would not be accepted.

These two bills are expected to be approved by the legislature and become law immediately, and will not have to go before the voters this fall as competing measures to the petition initiated repeal proposal. There are other proposed bills pending which would amend the 17-month old bottle law, many of which are expected to be delayed until next year.

The Memorial Day parade and program were held despite the rain. The parade marched to the cemetery and then back to the Grange Hall where the program was held. Stephen Taylor, a Son of Veterans of the Civil War from Norway Tent, spoke. The band looked very nice in their new uniforms and did a good job. The Daughters of Veterans of the Civil War wish to thank each one who took part and marched in the Memorial Day Services.

Flats I pointed in the direction of the moose but the truck passed me without slowing down. The creature stepped into the road, but instead of crossing, turned and dashed back into the swamp. Such a dramatic display of potential disaster left me feeling a little sick. Others have reported similar occurrence and we agree, there should be something more than one conventional moose crossing sign at that spot.

A gentleman from the local telephone company asked that this column report on future changes in Upton. Beginning on or about Monday, June 4, it will no longer be necessary to dial the area code for Maine. It will be possible to dial direct to 60 countries. There will be small pamphlets printed explaining changes and if an Upton subscriber does not receive one by mail, he may call the business office in Fryeburg for this or any further help or information. The operators will be busy with the new system which is being installed in other border towns. About mid-September you may find your operator speaking with a touch of a dulcet drawl as the central office is phased out of Litchfield and operating from southern, New Hampshire or Vermont cities.

The Bennett family of Bryant Pond visited her father last week end. The weather has been the best for attic cleaning.

TO HONOR RETIRING TELSTAR TEACHER AT RECEPTION ON THURSDAY, JUNE 14

The Telstar faculty invites all Telstar alumni, Woodstock alumni, and friends of Floyd Keniston to attend a special reception in Mr. Keniston's honor at the Telstar cafeteria on Thursday, June 14, at 7 p. m.

After 25 years of service at Woodstock High and Telstar, and 28 years in industrial arts education in Maine, Mr. Keniston is retiring at the end of the 1978-79 school year. One of Telstar's most popular teachers, he has consistently attracted over 120 students to his wood and metal shop. Through his career, Mr. Keniston has been admired and respected in his field, serving as industrial arts department chairman at Telstar and Woodstock, and most recently serving on the Telstar Steering Committee for Accreditation. In addition to his leadership ability, Mr. Keniston is an expert craftsman in the industrial arts area. He designed and built the facilities at Woodstock, and designed Telstar's outstanding industrial arts areas.

Outside the classroom, Mr. Keniston is an active community member. He is an avid sportsman, and has applied his talents by offering adult education classes in fly tying and by coaching several sports at Woodstock High. Mr. Keniston has also been active in the Bryant Pond Baptist Church, where he has served on several committees. The father of four—three daughters and a son—Mr. Keniston has lived in Bryant Pond for 25 years. The Telstar faculty hopes that many of Mr. Keniston's former students, associates, and good friends will plan to attend the reception in his honor at the high school on June 14 at 7 p. m., where a money tree will be available to assist him in outfitting his shop at his Bryant Pond home.
